

18 October 1962

Lakehead Amateur Radio Club

In place of our regular meeting we went on a tour of the Air Port Control Tower and the Radar Site, which was the most interesting evening an Electronics Hobbyist could wish for.

At the tower the manager gave us a talk on how they operated, and what the duties of the control tower operators were.

From there we went to the Radar Site where we saw the general operation, and the equipment which is necessary to run the screens.

The manager told us that a certain amount of visiting is tolerated and I am sure most people would find it well worth their while to see this installation.

LARC